FAQs

How does Midway find new guests?

Most of our marketing is done online with prominent vacation rental websites. Additionally, we have an extensive lead management system, which enables us to follow up and communicate with previous guests and potential guests via email marketing campaigns.

How are rates established?

We research comparable properties to establish a base price, and then evaluate and update around the unique condition of your property, its location, and available amenities, among other factors. Our exclusive Dynamic Pricing technology monitors the competition and local demand to maximize your rental income, by quickly adjusting the rates.

Is Midway Vacations insured?

Yes, we carry both general liability and E&O insurance, along with a strong CyberCrime policy.

What precautions are taken to guard against damage?

After our cleaning crew has finished but before a new guest arrives, Midway will conduct an arrival inspection to ensure the property is ready to receive new visitors, as well as to assess for any possible damages or issues left by the previous tenants.

Are there restrictions on how often I can stay at my property?

We realize that one of the best reasons to own a vacation property is to stay there yourself. Therefore, we do not limit the amount of time you can stay.

What are some of the typical expenses I can expect for the rental program?

Midway will make periodic maintenance and repairs to your property, perform quarterly deep cleanings, make sure the carpet is treated, and facilitate the replacement of your pillows/comforter/mattress protector, along with other household inventory items, to ensure your guests have a quality experience in your property.

When will I receive my rental proceeds?

You will receive a detailed monthly owner statement (income, taxes, expenses, and net revenue) and a direct deposit of your rental revenue by the 15th of each month.
